Changing the contract information

- ❑ After application, all changing procedures can be done on My Page or by contacting our customer support center. All changes will be implemented in the following month. Depending on the applying date and content, there is a possibility that the changes will be implemented two months later.
- ❑ Once the application has been completed, you will not be able to change your registration information.

Telecommunication Service

- ❑ The Internet connection service provided by our company is based on NTT Docomo's 5G/4G network. To use the 5G network, you must apply for the 5G Network Option after your service has been activated.
- ❑ The maximum connection speed of the provided service is equivalent to the connection speed provided by NTT Docomo itself. However, the actual connection speed might be reduced depending on the customer's area of use, used equipment, radio wave condition, line conditions, etc. In the time slot during which the line is crowded (e.g. around noon) the connection speed may be lower than the maximum speed.
- ❑ The 5G network shares infrastructure with the 4G network, so during times of network congestion, 5G network connection speeds may be similar to those of 4G. Enabling the 5G Data Option does not guarantee improved speeds.
- ❑ Even within the service area, the service may not be available in places where it is difficult for radio waves to reach, such as buildings, underground tunnels, tunnels, or in places where the signal reception is weak.
- ❑ To maintain equal usage among customers, internet speed can be reduced in certain cases.
- ❑ If monthly usage exceeds the data amount of the current plan, internet speed for the month will be reduced to 128kpbs.
- ❑ For customers on a time-restricted plan, if the usage of high-speed data over the most recent 3 days exceeds 10GB, the connection speed will be temporarily reduced to 128kbps. The speed restriction will be lifted once the most recent 3-day high-speed data usage falls below 10GB.
- ❑ The service is not available outside of Japan.
- ❑ The customer is responsible for preparing a compatible device and confirming its compatibility before entering into the contract. Any changes to the SIM type after the contract has been concluded may result in additional charges.

Mobile Number Portability

- ❑ It is necessary to have a complete match between information regarding contractor personal details, details of application submitted to the previous telecommunication company and information written on the contractor's ID documents.

- ❑ When the MNP procedure is completed, the contract with the original service provider is canceled, and the initially provided SIM card can not be used. As a result, the service of the original company can no longer be used.
- ❑ MNP transfers from a corporate contract to a private contract are not permitted.

Usage period and contract termination fees

- ❑ After the application is completed, the service starts on the day after the SIM card is shipped or on the previously selected start date. For eSIM profiles, the service start date will be the date when the eSIM is issued after linking your EID within the activation period specified by our company. Please note that no refunds, including initial fees, will be provided even if the activation period expires without linking the EID.
- ❑ On the premise of continued use for more than two months, the basic charge for the contract start month is free.
- ❑ If you wish to cancel the contract in the given month, please contact customer support.
For Direct Debit:
You can cancel our service at any time of the month; however, the contract will be terminated on the last day of the following month (cancellation month). Please note that billing may continue for two months following the cancellation month.

- ❑ There is no daily rate such as the basic charge for the month of termination.

Early contract termination

- ❑ This service is subject to the initial contract cancellation system. It is possible to cancel the contract in writing within 8 days after the starting date of the service. For details, please refer to "Information on initial contract cancellation system".
- ❑ If you apply for the MNP transfer at the same time as canceling the initial contract, please proceed to complete the transfer procedure within the expiration date of the reservation number. If the reservation date expires before the completion of the procedure, the phone number will be lost.

Others

- If we determine that call charges or other fees on your account have become excessively high and are significantly above the average usage of other users, we may issue warnings, suspend your line, or terminate your contract. In cases where warnings or suspensions are issued, immediate billing for call charges and other fees may apply.
